PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Dear Fellow Adlerians,

Many years ago, I used to listen to a motivational speaker on the radio each morning named Earl Nightingale. Even though he has been dead for years, I still remember some of the wisdom he imparted each morning. One of the things he said was: "Our environment, the world in which we live and work, is a mirror of our attitudes and expectations." That sounds very Adlerian to me. As we enter yet another year, it is encouraging to me to know that I have good measure of control over how I experience this new year. We can all be agents for change to make our individual and shared lives better as we move forward. I invite you to take part in as many opportunities as possible this year through your Society for enlightening and encouraging interactions with your fellow members.

Phil Morris, Ph.D., President, SCSAP
