PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Dear Fellow Adlerians,

Ran into some fellow dog-walkers this morning and we all lamented how quickly Summer has passed. I won't miss the heat and I do confess to anticipation for the changes September will bring. I hope you've seen the website (www.adleriansc.org), scanned the brochure for our 34th Conference and are making plans to attend. The program looks solid. For those of you looking for affordable education hours with a pleasant group in a pleasant setting, Springmaid Beach at the end of September is the place to be. Our August 9th meeting on the airport Campus of Midlands Technical College will be devoted to planning and decision making about last minute details. Hope you can join us at 7 p.m. as we iron-out some assignments and brainstorm one more time. I was reminded of the Bantu term "ubuntu" the other day. The word suggests that a person becomes a person through other people. It brought to mind the Adlerian concepts of social embeddedness and social interest. It reminded me that each of us help those around us become "better" people by the way we treat each other. Go do something "kind" today. See you August 9th and September 23rd.

Regards,

John Arnold, President, SC Society of Adlerian Psychology

LETTER FROM YOUR EDITOR

The SCSAP Newsletter is being e-mailed one day before our August 9 meeting instead of our normal two week advance notice, due to the fact that I returned late Saturday night from a month teaching briefly in Ireland at the 25th Annual Summer School in Clonmel, and teaching two weeks in Trencianske Teplice, Slovakia, the site of the 49th International Adlerian Summer Institute (ICASSI). While my brief visit to Ireland was a pleasure, I must say teaching, learning and recreating with 340 Adlians from 25 countries simply was another peak experience. South Carolinians, Jim Holder and Paul Rasmussen, were also members of the faculty, thus our south Carolina society is fortunate to have more folks teaching in the International summer Institute than all but four nations. The small village where we lived and worked was very attractive, and as usual, the spirit of community amongst the people in attendance strengthened each day as we renews past friendships and formed new friendships in a delightful teaching and learning atmosphere. My primary reason for spending this much space on ICASSI is to encourage our SCSA:p members to seriously consider attending next year when the Institute will be held at the beautiful Butler University Campus on the outskirts of Indianapolis. Friends, this will be the most affordable ICASSI experience in years due to its location in the US as well as the fact that it is being held on a university campus. You can access the ICASSI website at www.ICASSI.net and more information can be requested by e-mail at info.icassi@gmail.com Consider joining us to study with some first class Adlerian instructors, and to socialize with some fine people from over 20 countries.

Warm regards,

Frank Walton, SCSAP Newsletter Editor
