PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Dear Adlerian Friends,

I am Irina Cromer, a licensed independent social worker and I have the great honor or serving for the first time as the president of the South Carolina Society of Adlerian Psychology. If I am to fulfill this role, I realized that I have to attend to this task with what I consider one of the greatest Adlerian "tools": the courage to be imperfect. As 2019 starts I want to challenge you to dive into life with the courage to be imperfect. As long as we cooperate with each other and contribute to society we will experience a sense of belongingness. I have been blessed last year with a wonderful baby, so I guess, I will have my whole life to perfect the courage to be an imperfect parent!

I am looking forward to having a great year together, filled with good conferences and opportunities for applying and spreading social interest. I am originally from Romania and I'm really excited about ICASSI being held in my native country!

As Frank and Kathy Walton pioneered in postcommunist Romania when I was still in high school spreading social interest, it is a tremendous leap for my little country to host for the second time ICASSI. I hope to see a lot of you there.

Many hugs,

Irina
